EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 1-20.

Add the following new claim:

Claim 21 (new) A pipetting device that includes an elongated body, and a magnet fixedly attached to the exterior of the body, such that the magnet provides a means for temporarily attaching the pipetting device to any metallic surface located externally of the device.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Kumar on Feb 24, 2004.

Support for the above claim 21 can be found in either Figure 1 (where magnet 2 is connect to elongated body 1 corresponding to a fluid containing barrel) or Figure 2 (where magnet 2 is connected to elongated body 3 corresponding to a plunger).

Claim 21 is allowable as the prior art neither teaches nor suggest the combination of the phrase "a magnet fixedly attached to the exterior of the body, such that the magnet provides...to any metallic surface located externally of the device" with remaining claim limitations. The claim is expressly limited to include an operational "pipette device" (lines 1, 3 of claim 21) upon which a magnet is fixedly attached, full weight being given to the phrase "pipetting device". Suovaniemi's magnets (in the motor 9) do not provide a suggestion of a "means for temporarily attaching the pipette device to any metallic surface located externally of the pipetting device". Moriarty does not provide a suggestion of fixedly attaching the magnet to the pipetting device 20. (Note that Moriarty's hanger 10 (and not the pipette 20) retains the magnet.) Janchen does not provide a suggestion of fixedly attaching a magnet to the pipette 7, as element 9 is an iron member and not a magnet. Regarding the Taylor reference (which teaches a magnet fixedly attached to the exterior of the flashlight), great weight was given to both the benefits cited on both the Levine Declaration (first paragraph) and page 1 of the written specification, which suggest that a magnet fixedly attached to the exterior of the body of a pipette may aid in preventing cross-contamination.

Claims 1-20 were cancelled for the sole purpose of preparing the application for issue. All rejected (and subsequently cancelled) claims may be subsequently prosecuted in a continuation application.
